

TARVA

12 DESK SERVICED OFFICE

The Tara Building is a coworking, office and community hub in the heart of Dublin city centre.

We have hot desks, private offices, meeting rooms and a beautiful roof garden – but most importantly, it is home to a community of creative, ambitious people.

The Tara Building believes passionately in the power of creativity and community to make a positive impact for people, society, and the planet.

We pride ourselves on being highly ranked across multiple platforms.

We are ideally located on Tara Street, Dublin 2 and easily accessible by the DART, bus, Luas or train.

TESTIMONIALS

"We were in the market for a space that would suit hybrid working, somewhere central that the team could use as they needed, a private office that was fully accessible, serviced with all utilities in place. The Tara Building gave us just that, a very relaxed atmosphere with a creative culture that made us feel at home from the outset. It's hard to think of us being anywhere else at this stage."

- Noel Greene, Director at Evolve

"It was one of the best decisions to base myself there. Practically because you get stuff done in a business environment with all the infrastructure at hand, plus emotionally through the interactions with the people you meet every day. It's a rare place with some sort of magic that's all about the personalities that make this place what it is. An amazing team behind it all."

- Phil Ansell, CEO at Millstream Recycling
